The rut is the mating season of ruminant animals such as deer, sheep, camel, goats, pronghorn and Asian and African antelope. During the rut (also known as the rutting period and in domestic sheep management as tupping), males often rub their antlers or horns on trees or shrubs, fight with each other, wallow in mud or dust, self-anoint and herd estrus females together.

The issues include tuition-free college, a massive green infrastructure program, health care for all, ending mass incarceration and criminalization, and progressive taxation. Sanders supporters attended rallies, signed petitions, made phone calls, and donated money. It's time for this movement to organize their neighborhoods around the issues that matter most to their community.

On the Road in Las Vegas

By Catherine Austin Fitts

Well, I'm on the road again. On this trip, I am spending five days in Las Vegas. There was someone I wanted to meet. So I took some time to hang out, to get to know them better. I have not been in Las Vegas since I gave a keynote address as Assistant Secretary of Housing – Federal Housing Commissioner to the National Association of Homebuilders in 1990.

My favorite book on Las Vegas is the one Sally Denton co-authored in 2002 – The Money and the Power: The Making of Las Vegas and its Hold on America. One of the great insights was that the Mormon church was one of the initial financiers behind Las Vegas. In the deep state, patterns of investment always lead to fascinating connections.

My favorite movie is The Godfather series which encompasses the entire Nevada scene – from Las Vegas to Reno to Tahoe. Of course, I love Elvis so I must give a nod to Viva Las Vegas!

While here, I took a road trip to see the Hoover Dam at Lake Mead, Nevada, a project featured in Sally Denton's book on Bechtel, The Profiteers: Bechtel and the Men who Built the World. If you pull out a map, you can imagine the strategic impact of asserting control of the Colorado river in a separate state legal jurisdiction before it gets to California and Arizona. The Hoover dam is a giant spigot sitting atop Southern California. That's real power.

As of 2012, Las Vegas had 152,275 hotel rooms spread across a total of 355 hotels. With a population of approximately 2 million people, Las Vegas bills itself as the “Entertainment Capital of the World.” When I reviewed the casino stocks in 2012-13, my assessment was that building and operating casinos in Asia was essential to success. The squeeze on the American middle class is not good for Las Vegas.

The Trump International Hotel towers over Las Vegas. It makes economic sense that a casino developer wants to “Make America Great Again.”

Let’s Go to the Movies

Speaking of inflating expense, in Let’s Go to the Movies I will review Divorce Corp, a sobering documentary on the extraordinary financial and emotional expense of the US divorce machinery. Every family should educate itself about managing the risks to family life and finances — of involving lawyers, of formal legal actions and of family courts.

INTERVIEW

[NOTE WSJ Article]

“I can track the real-world inflation of the Burrito Index with great accuracy: the cost of a regular burrito from our local taco truck has gone up from $2.50 in 2001 to $5 in 2010 to $6.50 in 2016. That’s a $160% increase since 2001; 15 years in which the official inflation rate reports that what $1 bought in 2001 can supposedly be bought with $1.35 today.” ~ Charles Hugh Smith

By Catherine Austin Fitts

Author Charles Hugh Smith will join me this week on the Solari Report to discuss the real rate of inflation. We will talk about his recent comments on inflation — The Burrito Index and Revealing the Real Rate of Inflation Would Crash The System. He notes:

“Unbiased private-sector efforts to calculate the real rate of inflation have yielded a rate of around 7% to 13% per year, depending on the locale—many multiples of the official rate of around 1% per year.”

When managing your household finances, you must develop strategies to address the real rate of inflation that applies to your time and expenses and degrades the products and services that you use. Charles addresses strategies for personal success in this environment in his recent books:

- A Radically Beneficial World: Automation, Technology and Creating Jobs for All: The Future Belongs to Work That Is Meaningful.
- Get a Job, Build a Career, Defy a Bewildering Economy.

Hi Catherine

It is the first of the month and I just wanted to say that the Future of Professions article pretty much covered all the area's that I seen the banking system heading towards. Read that article and was like "Oh darn, they nailed it" I got nothing to report . lol Confirmation to me this past month came when I talked to the gals at the farmers market . They all agreed that the low staff level coupled with the high amount of remodeling going on that is downsizing the actual physical locations is a pretty good indicator that what was discussed in Future of Professions article is on point.

On my end the only thing that I can add for the month is cleaning the banks a cricket hopped up on the table . I thought "How appropriate" the spirit animal of the month for these guys . It has been so quiet traffic wise. I am allotted 1-1/2 hours at each stop to tidy up . Last year and half it took me at least hour and almost 1-1/2 hours across the board to get things done. 40 minutes tops now . I have been armoraling their chairs and base boards or whatever I can think of to make it what I consider a fair trade.

Hi Catherine:

I was inspired to hear you say to John Rappaport that what is needed is for humanity to recognize that we create our own reality.

I hope you have found time to read "The Nature of Personal Reality" and/or "The Seth Material", both channeled by Jane Roberts.

I feel that you may be one who will articulate for so many what needs to be made very clear and broadcast as widely as possible: the message that we are not victims, that we have always created our every experience, even the objects of our environment, and that the intense times we are going through are of our own design so that we learn to choose creativity and love over destruction and hate. Seth states that when this lesson is learned, the re-incarnational cycle is finished.

Have to be very discerning about channeled material. I read a small amount but am very careful. Much of it is channeled by the intelligence agencies and secret socieities. – People channeling do not know.

I know you are one who will want to know exactly how we create our own personal world. The explanation can be found in the Seth Material, Chap. 10, p. 122, paperback edition, Prentice-Hall, 1970.

The work I see you doing, and you have already begun, will awaken the message answering the age-old question: why are we here?

Right now, you might answer that using some of the Christian context you know so well, but I suspect you are aware of something deeper going on. Seth is clear on this also:

"In your system of reality you are learning what mental energy is, and how to use it. You do this by constantly transforming your thoughts and emotions into physical form. You are supposed to get a clear picture of your inner development by perceiving the exterior environment. What seems to be a perception, an objective concrete event independent from you, is instead the materialization of your own inner emotions, energy and mental environment."

I offer to you some quotes from Seth to encourage you to investigate further into these amazing and timely teachings:

"You have been given free will. Within you there are blueprints; you know what you are to achieve as individuals and as people, as a race, as a species. You can choose to ignore the blueprints. Now: Using your free will, you have made physical reality something quite different than what was intended. You have allowed the ego to become overly developed and overly specialized. In many respects, you are in a dream. It is you who have made the dream too vivid. You were to work out problems and challenges, but you were always to be aware of your own inner reality, and of your nonphysical existence. To a large extent you have lost contact with this. You have focused so strongly upon physical reality that it becomes the only reality that you know." The Seth Material, p. 247

"I have told you that if you do not like the state of your world, it is yourselves that you must change, individually and en masse. This is the only way that change will be effected." ibid. p. 248

"Desire, wish, and expectation rule all action and are the basis for all realities." ibid. p. 241

I endeavor to relate these teachings to our present moment in history and the current state of humanity as I understand it. You, of course, must do this to a far greater degree if you are to put forward Seth's teachings of creativity and love, for you are a central figure in the world's most physical action and will be instantly challenged by very well-respected conventional thinkers who are still immersed in the Darwinian/Freudian/man as victim mentality. They are committed to the separatist mentality and the "we against them" conviction.

Your courage will be tested as never before, Catherine, but I have no doubt that you will rise to the challenge and speak with the integrity and fearlessness you always have.

In sum, our species or race is facing its most momentous choice, between love and creativity on one hand and hatred and destruction on the other.

AGREED

In this choosing, we are releasing ourselves from ALL the established institutions and "eternal" philosophies we relied upon for centuries. We are moving into a deeper understanding of who we really are. That new understanding does not need or recognize any institution or concept that arises from and sustains a separatist mentality. And what institution or concept can you name that we have embraced that does not arise from that separatist mentality? answer: they all do. And it is that conviction that the individual is lesser than what he/she really is that has allowed us to be manipulated by every one of those institutions, even as we thought we were being "protected" by them. We were manipulating ourselves by our own limited visions of ourselves. It is no wonder then, that Mr. Global keeps us focused on what? the physical world. He is constantly offering new dangers and threats and disasters - the entire false story you and John analyzed so well...these are losing their power now...but will we as a species come together enough in our common new understanding of who we really are to turn our attention away from the on-going drama that keeps us in ignorance and fear?

I see you leading this awakening Catherine. Your voice is so respected world wide for its purity and integrity.

The bottom line is: violence must be rejected as an acceptable way of dealing with any human situation. Those who love violence and use it will have it come upon themselves, not because of karma or a just God, but because of the simple principle stated above: you get what you believe in and focus on and act upon...you deliver it to yourself, so that you learn.

And love and creativity must take its place. A tall order? Yes, but an inevitable one. It cannot be avoided. Our time has come. We are witnessing in our own presidential election the degree of corruption we have accepted as part of life...and we will have to face the consequences...and learn...and grow.

Rather than focus on that, let us look beyond it to what we must choose...non-violence, unity, brotherhood of all, cooperation for the good of all, rejection of manipulation for profit, rejection of self-serving concepts, acceptance of responsibility for every personal experience, rejection of fear-based concepts, creation of new systems based not on lack and fear but on abundance and self-trust, and the joy of giving love to the world one person at a time; in other words, service to others rather than service to self.

Thank you for reading this, Catherine.

Please continue to be a powerful light in this world...

With gratitude,

Dear Catherine,

Thank you so much for taking the trouble to answer my question on your latest "Ask Catherine" segment. Your answer gave me confidence in decisions and steps I recently took regarding retirement investments. I was also amazed that you answer EACH & EVERY QUESTION that gets sent in! Now, THAT is truly taking care of your subscribers.

I just wanted to share something regarding privacy - specifically, email privacy. Do you, or have you looked into, getting an email account at protonmail.com? The site encrypts emails from the sender and decrypts them at the receiver's end (if also a protonmail user) using a public key as well as a separate private key. The private key belongs only to the user and is not known to, or saved by, the email server.

Here's the thing: Protonmail is based in Switzerland and was created by scientists/engineers who work at CERN (group who created the world wide web; also explains the name- "proton"). Am hoping it is a trustworthy site. Am just a bit concerned as it was created by scientists at the home of the Hadron supercollider. However, I've also read that European-based email servers are better for privacy protection than, say, US-based ones because of those countries' stricter privacy laws.

Hi Catherine,

I've heard you mention before that there was a connection between the Las Vegas casinos and Area 51, and also between the Atlantic City casinos and Cuba. There is a new MGM Casino being constructed in the Washington DC area at National Harbor. Is there any particular reason Mr. Global wants this casino built, or is there no ulterior motive at all?

FASCINATING... NO IDEA..GREAT WAY TO LAUNDER MONEY TO "WINNERS"

Hi Catherine,

I have appreciated the Solari Reports having listened to you on USA Watchdog Report.

I have 2 questions and a suggestion.

1. Have you heard of Benjamin Fulford and if so is he reliable for information?

I DO NOT RELY ON HIM – MAY USE HIM AS A SIGNAL WHICH I THEN CHECK OUT

2. Financial situation and refugees. I remember reading on Drudge someone from the IMF or other global entity stating they were going to change the financial structure of the world and this was their most ambitious endeavor yet. Then the refugees start pouring in and George Soros encourages the governments to spend more to pay for more refugees. My question is this: are the Banks in trouble due to debt or the Elites wanting a new global monetary system. Possibly a combination of all of the above?

Thank you for your time.

Good Afternoon Catherine:

Thank you for responding to my question on Dr. William Mount this past Thursday. I am glad you thought it was confusing because I sure was lost.

I have been enjoying the Solari Report. Today I began listening to Spaced Based economy and the interview concerning Spiritual Warfare. I found it interesting you brought up the subject of sin and how it effects our communities. I wonder if you have heard of the book The Revenge of Conscience: Politics and the Fall of Man by J. Budzewski? He said the same thing about the burden of sin building in a community. I haven't read it yet but its on my list. Perhaps I need to make it next book after I complete The Devil's Chessboard.

I liked hearing the demographics of the Solari group and could relate to the member who asked if he was the only working stiff (if memory serves me right on the phrasing). Im a working stiff also and looking forward to leaving my current position. I work for XXXXX as a paper pusher and the issues they are promoting is making it difficult to stay.

Hi Catherine:

This site has charts analyzing our amazing national debt:

<https://www.washingtonpost.com/news/the-fix/wp/2015/01/07/the-story-behind-obama-and-the-national-debt-in-7-charts/>

I am sure you know what it says.

My questions to you are:

1. Recognizing that the 8 trillion$ increase in national debt since 2008 is a function of our government's inability to make payments on its existing debt, does this not mean that our nation is bankrupt?
2. My understanding is that the US Treasury no longer reports the latest figures on the national debt...hiding the truth...

3. This leads to the bottom line questions:

What possible outcome can be expected from this disastrous financial situation?

Do you see any reasonable ways to fix the system that creates this?

If not, what must Americans do to prepare for the inevitable?

Who benefits from this obscene spending?

And,

How can we construct a new system that directs the wealth of our nation into the improvement of the lives and environment of our people? Just a fraction of that debt would pay off all mortgages and feed and house the poor and provide medical care for not only America but for most of the world.

MANY SOLUTIONS

STEP ONE: TRANSPARENCY TO GOVERNANCE SYSTEM AND WHERE MONEY IS DISSAPPEARING TOO

TAKE A LOOK AT 2ND QUARTER WRAP UP NEXT WEEK AND SUGGESTIONS FOR YOU INDIVIDUALLY

Hi Catherine, Imagine my surprise when you mentioned Simon Parkes. Didn't know you went down that rabbit hole.

I'm sort of a Simon (only different) if that makes sense. Some time ago I was encouraged to understand how one manifests reality and to encourage others to do the same. Since you already have a large audience and a belief system that's open to the topic (as in Jon Rapaport and Simon) I am sending this note to encourage you to keep plugging away at that subject. As you know, those in power understand this (how to manifest) which is why movies like Hunger Games are being rolled out to us. That is their preferred reality. If the general public could learn to understand: that if we can vision it we can construct it – together, we could change the world.

We are all creating, but we are doing it unconsciously. Conscious creating isn't difficult, it only takes awareness of ones belief system, thoughts, words, emotions and what one is focusing on. Unfortunately, most are allowing main street news to do the focusing. I know you know all this. This is simply a prodding for you to continue to help others see this.

Are you familiar with Bruce Lipton (a medical researcher) who has a great video "The Biology of Belief"?

HAVE HIS LATEST BOOK – HAVE TO READ IT.

Keep up the good work that you do. Barbara

I'm loving the Solari Report. Thank you abundantly! Keep up the fabulous work!

Hi Catherine,

Can you tell us if this week is the beginning of a pop in the college bubble?

SURE SIGN OF DEFLATION – THAT WILL CONTINUE DEBT FINANCED GROWTH MODEL OVER – HAVE TO COME BACK TO FUNDMENTAL PRODUCTIVITY – PROBLEM WAS GOVERNMENT DROVE THEM OUT INSTEAD OF LETTING MARKET DECIDE WHO WOULD MAKE IT AND WHO WOULD NOT.

ITT Technical College is shutting down.

Taxpayers may be on the hook for $500 Million in student loans that the students will be eligible to discharge.

The Wall Street Journal wrote "ITT's biggest mistake was not putting Bill Clinton on the payroll." Apparently, other for-profit colleges have given millions to the Clintons or their foundation.

Maybe we will have more failures among the trade schools? Perhaps the over-priced cooking schools which cost tens of thousands, and cooking jobs at fine restaurants just don't pay that much. The cooking shows and the Food Network really herd students into that profession!

Thanks!

I EXPECT MORE

Hi Catherine--

Breaking news on my local TV station (KATU)--

An elementary school in Oregon City, Oregon is using kids' fingerprints to identify them in the school lunch line. Parents were not notified! Many parents are upset, and the ACLU is apparently getting involved, asking:

Exactly who has the fingerprints,?
Where they are going to be kept?
For how long?
etc.....

The school is defending this procedure, claiming it will move the kids along the school lunch line faster.
