Commentary – Campaign Whac-A-Mole

“Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired signifies in the final sense, a theft from those who hunger and are not fed, those who are cold and are not clothed. This world in arms is not spending money alone. It is spending the sweat of its laborers, the genius of its scientists, the hopes of its children. This is not a way of life at all in any true sense. Under the clouds of war, it is humanity hanging on a cross of iron." ~ President Dwight D. Eisenhower

By Catherine Austin Fitts

We are experiencing an unprecedented disgorgement of documentation on the Clintons and various aspects of their enterprises – from the Clinton Foundation to Hillary Clinton's campaign for the Presidency.

It is worth noting that there appears to be a method to the madness. A variety of parties, including Project Veritas, Anonymous, and Wikileaks are systematically targeting Clinton's key lieutenants. This is the equivalent of taking out the pawns before going in to capture the queen.

First we see DNC Chairman Debbie Wasserman Schultz taken out by leaks from Wikileaks. It remains to be seen as to whether this info hit cost a DNC staffer his life with a real "hit."

Wasserman is replaced by CNN political analyst Donna Brazile as Interim Chair who has now been outed for sharing debate questions with Clinton. While CNN has disavowed Brazile, cheating on the debates does not appear to warrant a resignation as Interim Chair. Yet again, the week is young. Needless to say, the present value of Brazile's future income is nosediving badly as I write this. Wasserman and Brazile desperately need Clinton to win – otherwise they're toast.

Project Veritas has outed significant Democratic covert operations – including related PACs overstepping what are supposed to be their legal authorities (marketing influence) and arranging for violent protesters at Trump rallies. By tying the lead covert operator directly to Obama and the White House (45 visits by Robert Creamer to Obama at the White House since 2008), there is no doubt a chill between the campaigns covert operations and the leadership, tying a lot of hands during the last two weeks of campaigning

Then there is Huma Abedin – since 1996, Clinton closest aide and assistant. Abedin like numerous other Clinton allies now has a world of legal problems and liabilities from divorce court to criminal investigations of herself and Clinton. The press reports she is now being left behind by the campaign. It is going to be very hard for Huma to be entirely focused on the campaign. Instead she is going to be wondering about the 650,000 e-mails on Anthony Weiners laptop, what's in them and how they got there.

Next there is Campaign Chairman John Podesta who has been barraged daily by Wikileaks leaking of years of e-mail. It is now likely that no one wants to e-mail with him, not to mention the hard feelings created and his own potential legal problems, particularly if Clinton loses.

Then there is attorney Cheryl Mills who has real reason to be concerned with her own legal position now that the e-mail investigation has been re-opened by the FBI. Just when she thought she had the team in the clear! It turns out that the FBI did not destroy her laptop. They still have it and her immunity deal is null and void if it turns out that she lied to the FBI at any time personal assistant – all are badly compromised with six more days to go. Now come leaks that Clinton loyalist and campaign chief financial office Gary Gensler is being sidelined for the upper echelons of the Cabinet – Larry Fink is in the lead for Secretary of Treasury. Given the risks that Gensler is taking with his personal fortune and reputation to manage the campaign finances, this is quite a kick. To be replaced by one of Wall Street's worst because he is too tough on Wall Street. Why should Gensler take any risk under the circumstances? It is a bad sign when insiders start competing for Cabinet posts before the campaign is won.

Then there is the potential First Gentlemen – Bill Clinton. Numerous reports are now spending lots of time digging into Clinton's relationship with convicted pedophile Jeffrey Epstein. Now that the Democrats have made allegations of sexual harassment an approved tactic, Clinton is fair game. It is only a matter of time and effort before more dishes out on Clinton at a time when most men are thinking about their legacy.

Daughter Chelsea has been pulled in as well with e-mails about the Foundation's operations designed to create bad feelings between Chelsea and the staff. Given the millions spent on Chelsea's wedding while the Haitian people were starving and dying as the proceeds of the Foundation fundraising for Haiti went someplace other than Haiti, Chelsea is likely not to command much sympathy. Add to this list long time political operative Doug Band who has to be scrambling to cover his overhead now that his memos and questions about his involvement in "pay to play" are smeared across the Internet. Other operatives have been targeted as well, including Neara Tanden.

Finally, there is the equivalent of the campaign "king" protecting the queen – President Obama himself. He has been warned, with one of the most damaging Wikileaks providing evidence that he was e-mailing Clinton on her private server from his private e-mail account. His statement that he did not know she had a private e-mail server was proven false. This leaves him compromised before Comey's announcement of the reopening of the investigation. It was a clever tactic, because now Obama has to be careful. Given Attorney General's compromise of the first investigation by a meeting with Bill Clinton that likely represents an obstruction of justice violation, among other violations, the Administration is exposed.

Clinton's greatest ally at this point is the corporate media who appears for the most part to have doubled down for Clinton. This is likely because they take their orders from their owners and until Mr. Global (or Ms. Global) pull the plug, the corporate establishment is all in for Clinton. It does not matter what extraordinary documentation of obstruction of justice, compromise of national security and classified intelligence, pay to play or violations of RICO statutes (to name a few) have come to light. They do not care. They do what they are told. What they are told is to get Clinton elected. Make a Clinton presidency appear inevitable, no matter what.

Meantime, on the other side of this effort is amassing on line media and Internet activists who have decided to convert the Clintons into the poster children of US government and establishment corruption. For some, such as Julian Assange, this is a fight to the death. Clinton has made it clear that she would like to “drone” Assange. I am convinced that several deaths on Mr Assange’s team over the last year have been assassinations and several attempts have been made on Assange without success. There are more than a few indications that there is support from the intelligence and enforcement community for Wikileaks. IMO, the theory that the hacking flow is coming from Russia is yah-yah. IMO, it is coming from forces funded within the Washington DC beltway.

The Wikileaks efforts so far have run into serious opposition when they leak evidence about Clinton’s role in operations that compromise the integrity of the Administration – such as Benghazi and support to ISIS. This may explain why increasingly what we are watching are leaks related to criminal shenanigans that can be scripted to Clinton team more narrowly.

Another group that is doubling down for Clinton as this occurs are a segment of women voters. We are hearing an outcry of women saying that this is happening to Hillary Clinton because she is a woman. In short, what is happening is sexist. They seem not to care about what happened to the women in Libya or Haiti or the mothers whose children were rounded up and put in slave labor camps during the Clinton Administration. The narcissism around this seems to be a serious last ditch effort to avoid facing the reality of our situation in America. It would be appalling if it were not so frightening.

As compromised as Team Clinton is, as long as they maintain their establishment backing, their only choice is to do everything they possibly can to win the election. While the investigations will not stop if they are elected, they will be in a better position to deal with them if they have government resources to affirm and maintain their ongoing criminal enterprise.

So this raises the question as to what the attacking team has that constitutes a “kill shot” to take out the queen before the election. Wikileaks and the assembled swarm has six more days – five really, to engineer their best shot. If you watch Campaign Whack-O-Mole to date, these folks are clearly building up to a kill shot. The question is what is it and will they be able to get it out and about on the Internet in time.

Which leads us to the last question – one that is being asked a lot these days. To what extent can the Democratic party and their allies rig the election through compromised voting systems?

This leaves us with two possible endings to Campaign Whack-O-Mole:

1. Trump Wins: In this case Trump appoints a special prosecutor and we can look forward to years of illumination regarding the Clinton interests. Clinton likely will do jail time, unless the establishment can persuade Trump to let her off the hook. Hopefully, we will have a chance to cleanse Washington of the Neocons for good.
1. Clinton Wins: In this case there is only one thing that the Republican Congress can do to redeem themselves in the electorates eyes – particularly if the Republicans won the popular vote in the presidential election – move for investigation and impeachment. What happens depends on the national security bureaucracy at the intelligence and enforcement agencies. If they support Clinton, the Republicans will likely be marginalized. This will be a dangerous situation. Traditionally, the way the Clintons and related allies win in these situations is to kill people or to target them with legal and financial torture and physical harassment. If the national security bureaucracy supports the House Republicans, Clinton will likely be impeached. However, this will come with a disgorgement of dirt the likes of which America has never seen. The way that Clinton can consolidate her power and command bureaucracy loyalty – including the banks and defense contractor who increasingly control the nuts and bolts of federal operations – is to have a war with Russia.

I am waiting for the women who support Clinton because she is a woman explain to me why WW III is good for women.

So lets see what the next six days bring. In the great game of campaign whack-o-mole, the situation is very fluid.

What happens

Election -

Vote – trump, how strong depends on whether the kill shot comes in – likely to be serious compromise of national security information – not competent to be commander in chief

Trench warfare likely to continue after election no matter who wins

Clinton wins - Trump – will not concede; house move to impeach – Swarm will not go away – to the death

Trump wins – establishment panic

Info war equivalent of “hitting the mattresses”

Ultimately real change is going to have to come bottom up
PAY ATTENTION TO LOCAL ELECTIONS!

Deals, deals and more deals — corporations are on a merger binge. But are they helping or hurting the economy?

In the short run, mergers can hurt workers, consumers and savers. But most economists say that in the long run, consolidation can increase efficiency and strengthen U.S. corporations, helping the economy for all. Let's walk through recent events, and consider the arguments.

In October, corporations announced about $329 billion worth of deals, according to Thomson Reuters' calculations. Among the biggest: Time Warner and AT&T; CenturyLink and Level 3 Communications; and General Electric's oil business combining with Baker Hughes Inc

And in November, the trend is continuing: On Wednesday, chipmaker Broadcom said it plans to acquire Brocade Communications Systems, which makes computer networking equipment, for $5.5 billion. Many mergers reach around the globe. Qualcomm is buying Netherlands-based NXP Semiconductors, Reynolds American is combining with London-based British American Tobacco, and Monsanto is joining with Germany's Bayer AG.

Let's Go to the Movies

In Let's Go to the Movies, I will review Borgen, the Danish TV sensation that follows the career of a talented young politician who becomes the first woman prime minister of Denmark. As I described in my earlier review (Movie Review: Borgen), the series does a remarkable job of bringing the viewer into "the room where it happens."

INTERVIEW

“Your complaint is your call to action.” ~Jason Bawden-Smith

By Catherine Austin Fitts

This Solari Report is of critical importance to your health and well being – and those you love. Please take the time to tune into this discussion.

Environmental scientist and entrepreneur Jason Bawden-Smith joins me from Sydney, Australia to discuss his new book, In the Dark – New Ways to Avoid the Harmful Effects of Living in a Technologically Connected World. Jason provides an excellent powerpoint to help us follow the technical aspects. We will post it in video form along with our audio this Thursday.

EMF radiation poses serious health risks. I highly recommend In the Dark to help you navigate these risks. Jason’s does an excellent job of making this invisible technology visible and helping you to determine practical steps to ensure you reduce your exposure wherever possible – both physically and financially!

In Money & Markets this week I will discuss the latest in financial and geopolitical news. Please e-mail or post your questions and suggestions for Ask Catherine.

Hi Catherine, I was first made aware of this YouTuber when you posted his Snowboarding with the NYPD video last winter. (over 15 million views on that one)I began to watch some of his videos periodically, I liked his visuals.I began to feel like they became one corporate sponsorship after another, (they did)Then the guy who repeatedly said he was non political makes a video bashing Trump and saying Clinton is mentally sound. Seems he's a paid shill. It ignited a backlash of videos calling him out and exposing the fact that, the Clinton campaign was courting " social media celebs".

A lot of that – you wonder how much is blackmail

Dear Catherine,

Forgive me for the length. Questions are toward the bottom.

Back in the spring, I splurged and used a portion of my tax refund to buy a year-long subscription to The Solari Report. It has been worth every penny. And I haven't even gotten to all of the goodies in the archives and subscriber resources...

I live in Chicago and will be voting for Gary Johnson for the second time. Clinton will win Illinois anyway. This is my third presidential election as an eligible voter. My only regret is that I didn't vote for Cynthia McKinney in 2008, but I lived in Ohio and succumbed to the suspense of a close race there and voted for Obama. I'll have trouble sleeping at night voting for Clinton or Trump knowing somebody with more integrity was on the ballot. Four really rough years ahead either way. I'll leave it at that.

I have looked into my local elections and looked up this year's ballot online. Unfortunately, most of them run unopposed. City elections were last year and I have an excellent alderman, who is young, well-educated and leading the charge in reforming as much as he can. From what I've heard, they've got some integrity at the state level. Jan Schakowsky is my U.S. House representative. I voted against her in 2014 because I don't see evidence of her being noteworthy for anything positive. I listened to your Solari Report with Sibel Edmonds a while back. Intrigued, I went online to find out everything she had said about the five or six members of Congress she had dirt on. The mystery female congresswoman that was allegedly recorded during a same sex bedroom tryst was none other than Jan Schakowsky. While Ms. Edmonds made it clear that she never heard any evidence that Schakowsky did anything illegal as part of being blackmailed with the alleged sex tape, I went online and saw that her husband had been convicted of tax and bank fraud, failing to withhold for taxes and writing bad checks and significantly overdrawing on his 'public interest group's accounts and swindling nine financial institutions of $2.3 million (though the money was apparently repaid). Maybe somebody with her control file needed hush money?

After last night's debate, Megyn Kelly made Donna Brazile incredibly uncomfortable asking her about emailed debate questions for Hillary and James O'Keefe's Project Veritas video of none other than Robert Creamer, husband of Congresswoman Jan Schakowsky. (Small world!) While the video could have been doctored (I am not endorsing James O'Keefe's methods, past or present), it's just another reason to give her opponent a shot at public office. Still looking into the opponent.

Thank you for your continued guidance in dangerous times. I moved from a less-than-stellar community bank after I got tired of declining customer service, a silly name change, and finding out their loan portfolio was underperforming due to lax lending standards during the housing bubble. I now bank at a local savings & loan in business since 1933 that appears much more financially sound from what I've found online. Its only location/branch is two blocks from my apartment.

Despite crime, corruption and Rahm Emanuel, Chicago is a beautiful city with some resilient communities. I shop for food at local produce stores that are competitively priced and buy a few niche items from Whole Foods and regional chains. Nevertheless, I plan on moving to Albuquerque next year when my lease expires. Hopefully will pursue nursing school at a community college because it's an ever-growing field. The big city feels more oppressive every year. Taxes on everything are being jacked up to salvage pensions after decades of neglect; some of Illinois' warnings about certain pensions go back to the 1940s! Heading out west for a lower cost of living and milder winters. All signs are pointing to the exit. (UPDATE: Before finishing this e-mail, I got a robocall from Jan Schakowsky's opponent about her husband's activities and am now considering not only voting for neither one but throwing my smart phone in Lake Michigan, ditching Gmail for StartMail and moving to a cave where I am less likely to be tracked and entrained. I AM CREEPED OUT.)

Questions:1. Target and Whole Foods have gone into some of the most blighted areas here in Chicago --albeit with financial incentives from the city's TIF funds -- and played a part in breathing new life into them. Growing up in Ohio's rust belt, I saw plenty of retail developments full of big box stores pop up that seemed less than economic all in the name of jobs and growth, like Walmart closing one store and opening up right down the street just because they could get public money to do it. (Luckily, Walmart has closed most Chicago locations.) However, I've read that this approach is only useful in the most blighted urban areas. What is your opinion?

Whole Foods raises real estate values – improving quality of food does breathe new life. Target cant hurt if blighted. Still prefer equity investment for small businesss

2.) PBS recently aired "American Umpire" based upon the book by Elizabeth Cobbs Hoffman. While I think there's plenty of whitewashing in it, they point out the price we pay here at home for being the global superpower. To his credit, Trump brought this up at the debate. They note more eloquently than Trump does that Europe's GNP is equal to ours yet many of its countries spend 2% or even less than 1% of GNP on defense while we spend 4% GNP and pay the lion's share of NATO among other things. Meanwhile, their social programs and infrastructure make us look like the third world and students here go into debt to go to college. Is this just a distraction given the $50 trillion in missing money (not to mention DOD's many missing trillions in undocumented adjustments), or should we charge Europe for security to close our budget deficit or pay for veterans' needs and other priorities?

I believe works to our advantage because of the reserve currency. Thing hurting is black budget and corruption more than world Umpire.

3.) Did you ever see Elysium? It's a 2013 dystopian science fiction film about Earth in 2159. The planet is uninhabitable due to overpopulation, mismanagement, climate change, etc. The rich elite now live in Elysium, a space habitat in Earth's orbit. The female empowerment factor seems to be at play in Jodie Foster's role as defense secretary. She echoes Hillary Clinton with her chic pantsuits, hawkish instincts and willingness to break the law to protect Elysium and enhance her political prospects. Maybe this is an option for them down the road?

YUP – movie shows the indifference

Hi Catherine,

My question is ..

- Over the next year what do you consider the best investment is. Real estate, mining stocks or gold / silver bullion and why?
- Don't know and no one else does either. Real estate is local – precious metals are subject to numerous other forces.

BALANCE BALANCE

I do think Rambus is right, if long term bull reasserts, mining stocks should outperform bullion.

Dear Catherine:

I just reported a Visa stolen because a charge cam through from the United Kingdom (I've never been there!)

AND, just one week ago, I reported a different Visa stolen because of a charge out of Greece. (I've never been there either!)

Can we in the United States expect more stolen card numbers from desperate people in Europe?

Are companies doing enough to GUARD their customer's credit card info? My fraud charge today was from Hertz Car Rental in the United Kingdom--I used to rent from Hertz frequently in America. Sounds like a Hertz hack.

Thanks,

Oh, and great interviews this week!

Dear Catherine,

Have you interviewed Rosa Koire yet?

http://youtu.be/pVp-F_lz954

YES

Was thrilled to catch your interview with Dark Journalist on 'why Trump?' Also learned about more dastardly acts of greed and inhumanity by the Clintons! Worse than the Mafia because they pretend they're such do-gooders while the Mafia don't bother with that.

Thanks for all your brave and hard work. Keeping you in my prayers always.

Good evening, Catherine.

I listened to your interview on USA Watchdog today.

It is quite disconcerting.

I am a Bible-believing Christian in all that entails.

So I have spent my whole life being watchful for the development of the Mark of the Beast, which some believe will be microchipping.

As I listened to you referring to microchipping as turning humankind into livestock, I was taken aback.

I had never thought of it that way before, but you are so right.

You ended the interview stating this progression toward microchipping is more important than the election.

I agree.

But I have one question: If Trump should be elected, would it slow down the march toward microchipping?

Or would it matter not at all?

Bible is truth.

The day is coming when the Mark shall be here.

This is more important than the election, but how does the election play into this scenario?

Now way to tell - believe better chance with Trump, but guess.

Hope you are enjoying your trip.

Question 1 - Got anything to share about Pence & Kaine?

Question 2 - Can you give a short overview of what takes place when a new administration comes into office. Maybe from your experience with Bush Sr

Hi Catherine,

Have you followed the story of Kathleen Kane, the Pennsylvania Attorney General who was recently convicted of perjury? Is this a political prosecution? Did she get too close to exposing a pedophilia network involving rich and powerful people in Pennsylvania? Thank you.

Don't know – clearly a story there. Don't know what it is without spending a lot of time.

Dear Catherine,

I just got off the tube having watched a recent episode of Code Black which was followed by an infomercial presented by members of the cast decked out in their medical garb. Message: "Look for these Stop the Bleed Kits which will be put up in public places around the country. Please see the following site for information on how to use these kits." These kits are packaged in bright red canvass 10" square containers and look to be put up on walls, much like fire alarms. So, looks to me like we are being set up to receive physical harm to our bodies.

Thank you for your recent interview with Greg Hunter. I mailed in my ballot today and ended up voting for Trump--I agree that he is our much-needed Molotov Cocktail aimed at D.C. and all that that place has come to represent.

MICHAEL MOORE – unintended consequences

You posted on the site on September 30, 2015 that back in June 2015 that you withdrew your recommendation of GoldMoney as an option for storing precious metals. In July 2016, Goldmoney announced that it had acquired Schiff Gold Inc. Do you recommend Schiff Gold Inc.?

I have never due diligence Schiff Gold.

Hello Catherine,

Although Canadian I have been following the American election closely, as the results will affect us as well. Recently I came across a clip of an audio (found on the following link askcatherine@solari.com, access to this clip is now denied on Zero Hedge ☺) Soros is convinced that Trump will win the popular vote in a landslide, but he will not win the electoral college. Could you please explain how the electoral system works in the USA. I find it all very confusing.

Thanks,

Detailed explanation at WIKIPEDIA

The United States Electoral College is the body that elects the President and Vice President of the United States every four years. Citizens of the United States do not directly elect the president or the vice president; instead they choose "electors", who usually pledge to vote for particular candidates.^{[1][2][3]}

Electors are apportioned to each of the 50 states as well as to the District of Columbia. The number of electors in each state is equal to the number of members of Congress to which the state is entitled,^[4] while the Twenty-third Amendment grants the District of Columbia the same number of electors as the least populous state, currently three. Therefore, there are currently 538 electors, corresponding to the 435 Representatives and 100 Senators, plus the three additional electors from the District of Columbia. The Constitution bars any federal official, elected or appointed, from being an elector.

Except for Maine and Nebraska, all states have chosen electors on a "winner-take-all" basis since the 1880s.^[5] That is, each state has all of its electors pledged to the presidential candidate who wins the most votes in that state. Maine and Nebraska use the "congressional district method", selecting one elector within each congressional district by popular vote and selecting the remaining two electors by a statewide popular vote.^[6] Although no elector is required by federal law to honor a pledge, there have been very few occasions when an elector voted contrary to a pledge.^{[7][8]} The Twelfth Amendment, in specifying how a president and vice president are elected, requires each elector to cast one vote for president and another vote for vice president.^{[9][10]}

The candidate who receives an absolute majority of electoral votes (currently 270) for the office of president or of vice president is elected to that office. The Twelfth Amendment provides for what happens if the Electoral College fails to elect a president or vice president. If no candidate receives a majority for president, then the House of Representatives will select the president, with each state delegation (instead of each representative) having only one vote. If no candidate receives a majority for vice president, then the Senate will select the vice president, with each senator having one vote. On four occasions, most recently in the 2000 presidential election, the Electoral College system has resulted in the election of a candidate who did not receive the most popular votes in the election.^{[11][12]}

Dear Catherine,

My neighbor told me they she was having car trouble because the squirrels were chewing on wires that are coated with SOY!!!! I had no idea that soy is used in non-food products! The economic connection must be significant for soy bean producers(???????)

Also:

I just bought a 2015 Chevy Spark from Enterprise Car Rental. I bought their pricy special warranty, because it will cover wide-ranging electrical system failures, and I am convinced that these newer electrical systems are riddled with shoddy workmanship. At least I'm covered if the worst happens. Recently, the appliance store lady told me that many new washing machines are having a lot of electrical system failures, which is expensive to repair.

Howdy do Catherine!

I'm not sure if you have already pre-recorded this interview... but I was SUPER excited when you first posted this interview announcement. Thank you!

If there is any capacity for further questions/inquiry, I would love to know the answers to some of these questions, Catherine.

1.) What is the most tenable way (cost vs benefit) to shield from "radio/microwave smog" for folks living in the typical suburban neighborhood?

a.) Smart Meter

b.) Wifi and, WiMax, which is coming into deployment rapidly (in my home, there are 3 other wifi channels of neighbors, that are even stronger than my own wifi.)

c.) using radio opaque materials (metal screen, enclosures to shroud smart meters, etc...), does an open enclosure (not perfectly sealed) mitigate some "line of site" signal?

Would love to know more about these topics... sadly, don't have much time to read right now... but I will check out the guests book.

Thanks so much for this topic, Catherine! Hope you are settled back in from your Oroad trip.

Warmest regards,

I stumbled upon this while researching depleted uranium used in military projectiles.

Depleted uranium is very effective as a high velocity armor piercing projectile. However, it turns a relatively benign waste product into a toxic battlefield heavy metal radioactive contaminant.

However, I believe it's use is primarily because the production of uranium for nuclear power and nuclear weapons leaves lots of DU waste.

So somebody got a bright idea. Instead of disposing of thousands of tons of DU as waste, lets put it in our weapon systems.

Two birds with one stone. And profitable.

Basically similar to the sad history behind water fluoridation.

Anyways, GenCorp (Orwellian name?) has a vision "to be one of the most respected companies in the world." Hmmm?

It has 2 divisions.

And...wait for it...Real Estate.

I flashed immediately to your info about Lockheed-Martin and HUD.

Thanks for giving me the knowledge to understand why GenCorp is in the Real Estate business.

Subject: Brexit and China

Hi Catherine

Further to listening to your most recent interview with thesaker, in the last 5 minutes of your talk, you touched upon the reason why Britain decided to brexit was due to a deal with china. Can you please send me any links to articles or even books why you agree to this premise.

CHECK OUT THE FOOTAGE AND COVERAGE ON THE visit of Xi Jinping

Dear Catherine,

Having seen how things are coming down these past few weeks, am retracting all the suspicious and negative things that I said previously about Julian Assange! So he might really be the real deal.

Whoever is supporting him (financially, if any) must really want to break up this huge den of corruption in the Dem machine, for whatever reason. And as you've said, the Powers That Be are running scared, incredulous at what's really happening as their façade crumbles for all the world to see, exposing the rot within.

Question is, what happens when Trump becomes president remains unknown. Is he also the real deal whom the PTB will try to take down by any means necessary?

DON'T KNOW. Will be limited by people around him, new info he gets,

Can you please comment on the new Dept. of Labor Fiduciary rule? Do you think this has anything to do with the government trying to grab the trillions in individual retirement accounts? I.e., Government annuities? How do you think this will affect your financial advisory business?

Thanks,

Still looking at it -

The final regs start to go into effect in April 2017, with an obligation for financial institutions to have complete compliance by 2018. So nothing is happening right now. There's a new FAQ issued, and there are to be more issued. That's why this made the news recently, I think.

PART OF PUSH FOR PASSIVE INVESTMENT – more control of individual assets – make it harder and more expensive for individuals to advise.

AI vs individuals - part of raising costs and liabilities of individuals

Madam Catherine, High Priestess of Truth, Warrior for Popsicle Indices,

The only good thing about evil is that it never knows when to quit and eventually self-destructs. We are watching this as we “speak”.

2. We know the Bad Guy(s) plan(s)

3. We know the world cannot exist much further in its present configuration (Either way)

4. We know that unavoidable change is upon us

So what would be the Good Guy plan?

Should “we” survive the destruction of evil*, what might a configuration be?

2. The common Trump following “Republican” might see a return to pre-collapse American “Mom and Apple Pie”

3. The Survivalist might see post-apocalyptic movie sets

4. The Solari Investor may envision Earth 2 with bots and over-unity power systems

What comes from the High Priestess’ mind?

- Global population growth?
- Sustainability?
- Financial and political reconfiguration?
- A repeated master cycle?
- The second coming?

Hello Catherine:

Where may I find more general and sales info on the 'Quantum Resonance System'? Thanks.

Best Regards,

LINK – they have a book....

Hello Catherine!

Hope all is well with you. Here are my questions, IF you have time:

- 1) Have you heard about this? Steve Pieczenik stating that a coup is in process. Feeling very confused about the info here: <http://lettersfromthegulag.blogspot.com/2016/11/did-cia-save-us-hardly.html> Wondering if you are familiar with Steve Pieczenik, whether he is reliable or is he CIA as suggested.

Don't know him. What he said make sense and fits with the patterns that are are seeing.

2) Still wondering about the incident where two children were murdered in their home. The father was a banker (or ?) connected to a HUGE sum of missing money for which a lawsuit was made against many people, Clintons included (?) I hope you can remember the incident from my dredged up bits of probably inaccurate memory??

Have a wonderful time in Europe!

Dear Catherine,

I have heard you often on Coast to Coast AM.

I was perusing the Solari site after reading the next chapter in Laurence Gardner's book, The Magdalene Legacy; Paul Simon was playing on my CD player. As George says, "No coincidences."
You had me at "Pistis Sophia."

I am hoping you will keep me sane for the next 30 days. I was unsure if I were even going to vote, it is an election "against" not for a candidate. However, your stated choice gave me some backbone.

Dear Catherine,

I recently came across the following clip. It certainly appears possible from my limited knowledge. If this is true one need not wonder why Hillary Clinton is so sure she will "win" the election. Wouldn't it be wonderful if the "cat got out of the bag" and the black community was vindicated via Bennie Smith for all the crimes committed against them?

I have linked a youtube video with a detailed analysis of "how it is done?" Are you familiar with computer programming. If so, is this possible?

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Fob-AGgZn44>

BEV HARRIS IS VERY CREDIBLE

Dear Catherine,

Just wanted to share with you (if you haven't seen it yet) this hilarious, spot-on parody Twitter account that "supports" Hillary Clinton. Every tweet sends me into gales of laughter. By a fellow who wishes to remain anonymous, but sure is clever!

<https://twitter.com/OnMessageForHer?lang=en>

Hope you're enjoying your visit in Europe! It's still very safe- despite false flag attempts by the PTB to create terror and fear in people. Be safe, and God bless you!

Do you know of Neal Ball and his American Refugee Committee? Or could you direct me to a place where I can find further information to make a determination?

Hi. Im a subscriber,. I have a portfolio that tis diversified and managed by a conservative small outfit. I am aware of the secret space program. or i follow the grapevine , I am an independent astronomer. I have heard of, looked into SDR, a bit, the Special Drawing Rights currency basket. I heard china has issued bonds, (veery low yield) connected to the SDR . This question is about US Treasuries vs, what ever is coming to replace the US debt instruments. Are there any based on SDR basket. . . (the basket still has a large weight toward the dollar.)

I fear that the international community may seek to leave the Dollar as the reserve currency and replace it with the SDR basket. My portfolio has a portion of those debt instruments.

DO you perceive a mood to transition, in an orderly manner, or not, from the US treasury instruments to “SDR debt instruments.” I know that may sounds ‘moronic’ there is no one sovereign behind the basket of currencies. It would imply a foundational change in the bond market. I am concerned that the current international tensions will, sooner than later, erode the dollar. boil over, cause chaos.

The current international tensions revolve around the China and Russia curtailing the mono polar power of "US oriented oligarchy" Certainly the tendency to a multi polar world is heralded and championed in the east. The US China relation is like siamese twins punching and kissing at the same time. The Russia US relations are quickly heating up. My question is, Could there be a moment when treasury bonds are forced to convert to DSR based Bonds? how does profit arise from such a contingency?

basically what is the path from dollar denominated Debt instruments to a multipolar world order and the resurrected bond market over a SDR foundation . . . clearly its a yet to be born moving target. but we have to be seeking a understanding as we . . . transition to preserving an ever more human world that is my question the rest is more commentary than question.

Have you heard of the term "Washington Consensus? " it is intimately related to "US Deep State". The first term is foreign policy 'standard speak' , the other is 'fringe analyst jargon'. I (don't mean to box us in that) In my understanding of both concepts There is one group of people involved at the root cause of both of these social networks.

the term “world management team” was coined to typify them. I heard CAF use it. “they” have tentacles in the arms and aerospace industries, Big Pharma, the federal reserve bank, the IMF, Bank of international settlements, CIA, the ICC; The western Oligarchy power brokers.

Is the current international conflict in Syria a symptom of the struggle for mono polar, complete domination of the world economy vs a multipolar, complete domination of the planet? Is territorial friction in S. China sea and the vociferous defection of the Philippines another symptom? There is, with out a doubt a fraying of the world order and challenge for the domination of the global dominion. its another sort of world/war. more covert, perhaps with deeper consequences than the events of the 20th century.

I saw CAF on Dark journalist talking about the Human vs, Non Human character of the immediate developmental bifurcation. AKA, ew may all be going to hell in a hand basket so we should not ask for more pillows and a cookie. I agree its that dire. So I expect there to be grave reorganization. SDR basket? is it a better basket?

There are many nuances and signs behind both of those fronts. S Chia Sea, and Syrian war. There is also an internal US and EU fronts. The US media is actually programming to encourage internal unrest. Specific example are “Black lives matter” and the vilification of Russia and presidential process vitriol. To me these are obvious Psy Ops themes. The presidential political scenario in the US is like the puppet show that gets very shrill to distract the audience from the puppeteers infighting behind the curtain. Syria and Ukraine have been propagandized to herd US populous to war. all of it is loud and only partially effective.

What I am trying to demonstrate here is that the status quo behind the Washington consensus is fraying. their global grip on power is slipping. in parallel there is a concerted attempt by the west, to grow and deepen the war in the middle east . it looks like a desperate ploy to create the chaos that herds populations to submit to national leaders. However, these are also symptoms of an deeper struggle with traits unique to our time. I still think that Syrian war and the S China Sea will remain regional armed conflicts. because off larger geopolitical stakes, I also think that the conflict is to be hammered out within the global economic arena.

the next TBTF back to collapse may be Deutches Bank. It will not be bailed out by the german government. and the German state has already issued warnings to keep food supplies on hand.

Symptoms:

China is backing rusia implicitly in the No fly Zone, Syria. ISIL is another proxy force instigated Western concerns. Just like the mujaheddin in the Rusia Afghan War. The refugee influx crises in EU was intended to destabilize Europe and push EU population into accepting more totalitarian regime. In the long run it was seen to provide cheap labor for the upside of the economic cycle. France pulled off another false flag operation to extend the state of emergency. (Nice killer truck incident) the US State Department , the CIA, the Pentagon, the White House, the US legislative branch: all appear in disharmony over the current situation in global security and global political control.

I really believe that the world, complex and frail as the current order appears, is a robust and resilient environment. complexity is the enemy of sustainable total domination. what is in peril is the social, oligarchic centers of control and domination. Not the capacity to bounce back societies can actualize. there are a large deal of events that matter, which are not publicized. there is a heavy load of manipulation and propaganda standing in its place. the global conflict is heating up, far more chaotically than any "world management team" can handle.

That brings me to the use of artificial intelligence to predict the near future and take preemptive actions for the preservation of the current oligarchy. I suppose that you are unaware of such developments. that technology is a threat to sentient sapients around the general interstellar community. I know ya'll are earthlings, for most. I track the ex-opolitical scene as well as the geopolitical. That alone makes whats happening here on earth a red flag.

I am struck by the general ignorance of so many. after 20 years of astronomy and 30 of Spiritual Science, I must convey clearly to you all: the galaxy is a old, large and complex place. Our culture has emerged to a modicum of awareness these last few generations. Our interstellar context is crawling with intelligent civilizations, that all has been there, practically, for ever. Please pause, imagine you are in a high rise in Manhattan, or Rio, look out the window and see that our corner in the galaxy is a zoo of beings like there are apartments and favelas all around any earth city. This reality is about to shatter our provincial ideas of our place in the universe. its a fluke that western post dark age culture has the ideas it has. ancient civilizations all dealt with this for better of worse.

Solar Warden:

Starting in the 70s and coming to fruition in the late 80s and early 90s, an advanced arm of the US Navy and its standard contractors created Solar Warden. It was designed created and deployed as a "space navy" for the same reasons any navy is created; this one for the bigger context of interstellar relations. The program was blacker than black. Solar Warden is a tinny portion of what unlimited funds, for 70 years, payed for. The black budget and "Unacknowledged Special Access programs, far exceed our imagination. "

Solar Warden is still operational, sort off. it was created as a strategic response to extraterrestrial activity in the solar system. (We are going to have to grow up in a hurry now) (thee is much out there that is way, way over the top) There is in fact a large and hidden civilization beneath the cultural and physical ground we tred.

I gather that, About 8 years ago (maybe 5 maybe 10?) Solar Warden fractured. a group of military and civilian operatives defected; this created a rebellion with in what can be termed "The Secret Space Program ", 'SSP' for short. It was, as I gather, a response to the abusive and totalitarian tendencies of a "International corporate conglomerate" which was ever more dominant and lawless. Call them "ICC" its basically the contractors and corporations that developed the secret space assets. the ICC kept the best and most prosing technologies for them selves. they grew out of the privatization of the UFO and Alien problem our civilization became conscious of just before around and after WWII. captured, back engineered and perfected interstellar technology. the ICC thrived by siphoning the public sector, in the dark. It grew powerful and separate from the ordinary economy.

The current international friction has an interplanetary dimension. that is what makes the situation overwhelming to the surface population. (earth surface, political surface, intellectual surface) the Washington consensus is in place to defend the liberty of the ICC and the personal interest of this plutocratic Oligarchy. they fancy themselves masters of the world. an they are, to a great extent. or have been, till now. I report with a broad uncommitted position. I am a very-very little fish with a periscope above the pond. Non of these terms are implicitly moral. they intend to describe a social reality.

maybe i'm over thinking this? (with a lilt)

Now:

What I see is a Rusia-China block allied with a rival eastern oligarchic subculture struggling for control of the planet against the Western oriented group. Along side is the Solar Warden faction, accompanied by other SSP assets and defectors; these have sided against their former masters, with the hopes of leveling the playing field for the gretar humanity.

The western oriented group is seen to be composed of the long standing banking families, ICC and the portions of the US intelligence and military establishment within the western consensus. This is a "dark war". It has been simmering for several years: The 9/11 false flag was certainly a part of this. So was this summer's flock of space assets that fell to earth (reported as a unusual concentration of meteors and bolide around the world) The reorganization of the intelligence establishment and the "patriot act methods" where intended covertly disassemble the republic. all are signs of ur-fascism, unredeemable totalitarian tendencies, over and over latent in our inner reptile.

from a point of view of European recent history; the current conflict is a direct consequence of WWII as that war is a direct consequence of WWI as that war a consequence of 1870 war . . . Looking forwards from then, the field gets bigger as does the ego ambitions of men. The current conflict has several surprising additions. These have been hidden by the ever more sophisticated propaganda machine and media culture into which Western Culture descended after WWII. Chief amongst these is the advent of super high technology, kept secret and which became the enabling factor for a break away civilization. The history of conflict and civilizations goes further back than the 19th century. Hundreds of millennia can be grasped. than This current break away civilization sought to control the planet as other civilizations, not indigenous to the solar system, dominated the planet in millennia past. colonization and enslavement is a factor galaxy wide.

this is where the ethical dimension to our current situation has to scratch in. Enslaving world is a real thing. Doing it from within is very very bad. This is why there is a secret space program alliance of defectors, struggling with the Eastern alliance, against the western block. this is why the eastern block has set up independent financial structure. this is why tracking SDR bonds becomes critical. This is why nationalism is no longer real. This is why a uncomfortable and disorienting growth spurt is required, (some years ago) there is a struggle on the planet to disarm the elites who would treat the entire planet as their plantation. Humans who have seen the less than moral interplanetary situation and preferred to play that field for personal profit. The 20th century saw a covert rise of technologically empowered minority who chose to dominate the world, at the expense of humans evolving beneath their sociopathic, egocentric, point of view. They rose to have an interplanetary perspective, starting as early as WWII. equally powerful factions have emerged from their midst or have remained independent enough, to challenge the post WWII status quo. the stakes are planetary ignorance and slavery or admittance as a whole into an interstellar society; a society that has never not been there.

as far as the SDR evolution; All this is significant because there are some real a blood boiling situation that has become painfully obvious the the most technologically empowered individuals on the planet. the most powerful and best organized groups on the planet have taken sides. the personal and collective spiritual development of humanity appears to be on the balance. The long term consequences of the resolution of our planetary situation has interstellar spiritual consequences. Nobody here wants to dismantle the wealth and freedom our civilization brings to individuals. the current dominant oligarchy is to corrupt and selfish to be allowed to continue. This is going to manifest economically as a struggle between an eastern based emerging system of finance and the established western patterns of planetary exploitation.

In reality I am a financial cults. SDR related bonds may not be relevant, now or later, I don't have enough tactical information to know for sure. Fortunately I count with financial services which I trust will look out for our common interest. My personal perceptive is eccentric, from the point of view of MSNBC . . . From the point of view of my immortal self, I am assembling a panorama that stretches back millions of years. its an astronomers respective, a perspective that counts on a greater context, inferable, unavoidably there, if clear thought and un anesthetized mind reconcile. I know that this may be a unorthodox call for hedging and diversifying. I know i am diversified. I have to trust that the common good will prevail.

i guess it was an essay.

World is still deeply dependant on dollar system. SDR has long way to go to handle volute.
