Life & Death Issues vs. Monuments

During this experience of over six decades, I have heard friends and colleagues who are African American repeatedly express many life and death concerns:

- Targeting of their children and neighborhoods with narcotics trafficking
- Targeting of themselves, their families and neighborhoods with aggressive or illegal enforcement
- Systematic degradation and absence of resources of their public schools
- High crime rates in their neighborhoods
- Targeting by predatory lending practices and mortgage fraud
- Use of tax dollars to fund illegal or corrupt activities
- Use of federal programs designed to help their communities used instead for political pork
- Federal, state and local corruption that lowers their life expectancy and reduces their opportunities
- Vaccine injury as a result of serious ethical violations of the FDA related suppression of data related to African American children
- False imprisonment and malicious prosecution

Actually, the list of legitimate complaints for the African-American community is much longer, as well as all other low income communities in America.

In all sixty years, I have never once heard a complaint – even a thought – about statues or monuments.

Allergic to Numismatic Coins

By Catherine Austin Fitts

Franklin Sanders has written an article “What is a Numismatic Coin, What the Law Really Says... and Why You Should Not Buy Them!” He defines the numismatic coin:

“The loosely used, popular definition of a “numismatic” coin is one that collectors will pay a premium for. When used as “numismatic” versus “bullion” coin, people usually mean a collector’s coin versus a coin sold for a small premium over its metal value. The first is an investment in a coin, never mind its precious metal content; the second is an investment in silver or gold, never mind that it’s a coin.”

If someone is aggressively marketing numismatic coins, at Solari we do not post any of such marketer articles and interviews on the Solari Report.

This Solari choice has a history.

When I first started learning about precious metals, the best dealers I found were adamant that numismatics are inferior investments. Two reasons are primary—

- Their commissions are outrageously high.
- The premise behind numismatics is unsound – that they are safe in the event of confiscation, justifying the commissions that the dealers earn, and that confiscation of private precious metals holdings is likely.

GOT E-MAIL FROM SUBSCRIBER – DESCRIPTION OF
SOPHISTICATED MARKETING BY FIRM SPONSORS
VIDEOS

From Franklin

Friend/dealer brought me a case from 2015/2016 where they gutted a widow, turning $215k into $95 k. Marked up numismatics from 1.5x to 2.07 x — compare to 3.5% to 1.5% for bullion dealers. Another friend/customer called recently to compare their prices: 1.65x markup.

All these people ought to be horsewhipped, and their backs rubbed with salt.

The global reset – BIG BANG THEORY – used to market the Dinar – calculate 7,000 hour loss.

Don't fall for it. Global reset has been underway for 20 years. If you are waiting for it to happen in a big bang you are missing the whole event. Things are much more complex than it seems.

Just because the system is throwing us overboard does not mean the system is going to collapse.

Did not post: Private E-mails

COULD HAVE MADE THEME – life and death in the power of the tongue.

Smearing McKinney

It sounds like you are new to the situation.

When prosecutors want to target and frame an innocent person who is a private citizen, not a government employee, they sometimes depend on smear campaigns to create the illusion that someone is breaking a criminal statute.

The criminal statutes related to your message are the "material support" laws created after 911. A private citizen can be prosecuted for association with a group, even when they were not involved in any illegal activities, intended no illegal activities, and the connection is incidental. (I am invited to speak at a conference by Harry. Harry has a brother who is in group XYZ who also attends the conference. Someone takes a picture of me speaking with Harry and his brother. Bam. My enemies use that picture to frame me as providing material support to XYZ)

Indeed, they can even be designated for assassination without any indictment or due process.

If you look at the criminal statutes that your e-mail was alluding to - this is very dangerous stuff.

The people who would end freedom are using social media and on line systems to build up to mobbing and smearing that can lead to real harm and even death.

I did not mean to shock you. However, I want you to understand you had crossed a line that was dangerous for you and all concerned. So please, please be careful.

Disagreeing with McKinney

However, I want you to hear one thing that I am saying that I believe you do not yet understand. I would not understand it myself if I had not spent years and millions researching our economy on a pro forma basis at the local level, including the covert flows and covert control and financial manipulations.

I have profound disagreements with most people on the progressive or traditionally Democratic side. What I have discovered is that those disagreements are almost meaningless as a practical matter if we can agree on sound finances run in accordance with the law.

I used to be on a listserv with a wonderful community organizer in Ohio. When we spoke about political and economic philosophy, we disagreed completely - even falling into verbal blows.

However when we faced the issue of what to do in a community faced with limited time and limited resources, we agreed 90% of the time or better.

If government money was run according to the law and we have paper ballot systems, it would be relatively easy to argue the rest out - especially if we are free to optimize on a local basis.

It is a similar story to what I once told the blacks and whites where I live - If you would just make sure the money is managed lawfully, you could hate each other rich instead of hating each other poor.

The people who manage things spend trillions figuring out how to manipulate us. They are great at manipulating us on conceptual and abstract issues that keep them in charge of the real power lines.

If someone is committed to sound money and legal government finances and voting systems that have integrity - we can get something done. And then we can bicker about all the other issues as free people instead of slaves.

Lots of people spouting free market philosophy that aligns with mine - most of them are being financed by $18 trillion stolen from the US government (they have no objections) and many of them intend to see you and me with chips, mind controlled depending on digital money that can be turned on and off.

Everyone of us that is pro-human need to work together towards freedom.

NOT THE FIRST TIME I HAVE CAUTIONED PEOPLE TO BE CAREFUL OF ACCUSING PRIVATE PARTIES

Difference between government liability and private liability –

Document the facts and let the facts speak for themselves. If you want to engage in high octane speculation call it as such and don't do it in a way that creates criminal liability.

Controlled Demolitions Continue

As The Sacramento Bee points out today, public workers in Trinity and Imperial counties are just the latest to have their pensions slashed by up to 90% as their cities admit what most of us have known for some time, namely that they're running ponzi schemes which simply don't have the funding required to payout the benefits they've promised.

Amazon watch

AMAZON deleted over 1,000 1 star reviews – leaving up all 5 star reviews.

Just got my products from Radiant Living Center - I bought them there instead of Amazon. Came with this note on the invoice.

Dear Catherine!

What an honor to have you as a client. I saw your name and thought "Oh- Catherine Fitts - interesting coincidence - and then I saw Solari! We love your shows and Joseph's! Thanks so much for putting yourself on the line get the truth out. Wishing you the very best. Love, Penelope.

Conservatives are having a hissy fit because TRUMP made a deal with the Dems on the dreamers and Wall.

Reality is that the Republicans consistently refused to give Trump a majority. Trump is a lets make a deal guy. So now he is doing business with the Democrats so he can get things done. Reality of the numbers.

Grow up – this is a sausage factor. Trump can either function in the system as it exists or leave.

Senator Rand Paul

THE SENATE VOTED Wednesday by nearly two-to-one against an amendment from Sen. Rand Paul, R-Ky., to the defense authorization bill. The amendment would have ended the current Authorization for Use of Military Force within six months and forced Congress to vote on authorizing wars beyond that.

The authorization, which was passed in the immediate aftermath of the 9/11 attacks, is the legal justification for many U.S. military engagements abroad, as part of what has been called the “global war on terror.” The expansively interpreted law authorized military attacks against those responsible for 9/11 and “associated forces.”

The failed vote came after Paul took to the floor on Monday, vowing to block other Senate actions until his amendment was allowed.

INTERVIEW

THIS IS A VERY SPECIAL INTERVIEW, JUST LIKE FRANCOIS VECCHIO – very grateful to Harry for doing this.

TWO BRAVE MEN WHO SAILED AGAINST THE PREVAILING WINDS AND MADE AN ENORMOUS
CONTRIBUTION TO SAVING AND PRESERVING A HEALTHY FOOD SYSTEM -

“You can get an idea of human nature only when you can see the relationship of the individual human being to the whole cosmos.” ~ Rudolf Steiner

By Catherine Austin Fitts

Christopher Mann is a man for all seasons.

Born in London to parents who were anthroposophists – followers of Rudolf Steiner’s philosophy – Chris studied and worked in England and Switzerland. In 1980, he and his Swiss wife Martina moved to the United States. They bought farmland in East Troy, Wisconsin and created the Michael Fields Agricultural Institute to promote research and education to support biodynamic farming in the United States.

Chris and Martina dedicated their life and personal resources to make sure that biodynamic farming would not be buried by the corruption of our soil, seed and food supply and consolidation of ownership and control of farmland. Their efforts represent a quiet, extraordinary contribution during a period in which private investors and corporate agriculture continued to centralize control of our food supply.

Harry Blazer visited Michael Fields last year to conduct interviews with two people that we published in 2016 – former executive director Dave Andrews about the future of biodynamic and organic farming and Angela L. Curtes, the head of Grounded LLC and former farm staff, about healthy soil. Harry also took time to do an extensive series of interviews with Chris about his life and work.

These rich discussions capture the powerful wisdom and insight that Chris has gained from his extraordinary contribution to our food systems and society. It captures the legacy of a legend among us.

As you know Stanley Fischer is stepping down as Vice-Chairman of the Fed on October 13, 2017.

If you were a Las Vegas oddsmaker what would the odds you would give that Mr. Fischer replacement would be Neel Kashkari?

Interesting day October 13, 2017. It is the 100th anniversary of Fatima. Plus on October 13, 1307 the last Grand Master of the Knights Templars was arrested.

Dr. Mercola brought my attention to "InPower"-- a group started to get rid of smart meter technology . The procedure uses the contract to assign liability. It looks like it could have potential use in 5-G roll-out and Forced Vaccine issues as well. Wanted to bring your attention to it so you could perhaps do a report on it. I found it very hopeful and if you watch the short video InPower made, you will hear more about the results they have gotten thus far. Mercola has a written text about it and the video is within his report. Here's the link:

Catherine,

Thank you for your most excellent prayer.

It leads us in the path of restoration, a dynamic that will become more and more appreciated.

The past and the way it was can never be restored; what shines as the central thread of that dynamic is a restoration of faith.

Faith is a vertical dynamic, between each person and their idea- or ideal- of Divinity; the horizontal equivalent is trust.

So may we all restore trust in our relations with ourselves, each other, our government and our communities.

That last is important, too: trust in “place” allows us to feel safety, and all that is built upon it.

A favorite - Faith is the substance of things hoped for but not yet seen.

Excellent, excellent insight. THANK YOU!

Hi Catherine –

For years you've said that the strength of the dollar is dependent upon the strength of our military's ability to 'enforce' its value world wide. Strong military equals strong dollar.

We have recently seen TWO 500+ foot long Navy destroyers rammed on the high seas by slow moving freighters. And these Navy ships are equipped with (supposedly) the most sophisticated radar detection systems on the planet. Yet TWO destroyers are both rammed amidships?

Also the dollar has been steadily declining since January. Our military systems are being publically compromised and is this a signal that we can no longer 'enforce' the value of the dollar?

So you see a correlation? Have our military systems been compromised and is this how the dollar will finally decline? Wondering if China has the key to our military technology Something fishy IS definitely going on here.

Would appreciate your thoughts ...

VERY, VERY IMPORTANT – and deeply dangerous for the US brand and the dollar – will be discussing these stories in depth in 3rd Quarter Wrap Up News Trends & Stories – will be one of top 3 stories of quarter.

Please give Catherine a "Heads Up" ~
I'm forwarding this to ask ~ What questions
Should I be asking & how to engage the conversation to wake the audience up??? This is schedule for Sept.12th ~ Tuesday, next week.

Catherine, you have talked about this tirelessly and some of us would like to pick up the torch!
Please send us some ideas on how to approach
this topic. Thank you ~

Sent you questions on missing money and Section 1 of the Constitution – thanks for asking.

PLEASE ENGAGE WITH YOUR LEADERSHIP – State legislators, local municipal leaders, Congressman and Senators.

Dear Catherine and Dr. Farrell:

In my email to you of yesterday, I omitted a conclusion that cannot be avoided, IMO.

When free money is being handed out just to keep the jobless alive and the work force is being replaced more and more by robotics and AI, the people will inevitably begin to despair over truly being "useless eaters."

This state of mind prepares them for beginning to accept, however unwillingly, that overpopulation is indeed a problem and that they, as the population, are that problem.

Without the dignity of meaningful work and weighed down by dependence on charity to live, how many may begin to quietly accept that the need is obvious for a drastic reduction in global population?

How many will be so disheartened as to offer less or no resistance to accepting their own removal "for the benefit of the planet" etc.?

This unthinkable conclusion seems obvious to me now.

It fits perfectly with the overall drive of the global masters to fulfill their agenda and reduce the population to a manageable 500 million. They have to weaken the will to live.

I don't believe in prophecy or fear porn, let alone a combination. Please stop sending this stuff. You keep inventing a future in your speculations that is very different than the one I am inventing. I am going to use all my energy to promote a human culture. I don't need to spend any time thinking about an inhuman culture as it will happen over my dead body.
